Company Profile Syntura

The company Syntura from Schramberg is the operator of the Hirschgrund Zipline Area Black Forest. The owner Georg Stefanovic, 44, is a skilled mechanical engineer and holds a Diploma in Business and Engineering (FH). He is a canyoning instructor trained by the Commission Européene de Canyon and also a skilled austrian cave guide. The company was founded 2000 under the name „Felsduell“. 2002 the first forest high ropes course in the Black Forest located in Schramberg-Sulgen has been generated in cooperation with the qualified social education worker Frank Gerlach.

In 2007 the company was renamed as Syntura and split into two business areas: Syntura - emotion, fun & challenges, managed by Georg Stefanovic and Syntura - Training and Coaching, managed by Frank Gerlach.

Since 2002 Georg Stefanovic and his team of pedagogically well trained guides offer adventure and experiential education activities for companies, social facilities, associations, organisations and schools.

All these specific activities are executed on-site of the high ropes course in Schramberg-Sulgen.

Since 2012 Georg Stefanovic is also taking care of school classes in his tipi camp near St. Roman/Wolfach. In addition he organises and guides cave tours in Germany and France.

On 31st of March 2012 he opened his newest adventure dimension: the Hirschgrund Zipline Area Black Forest in the Heubach valley close to Schiltach in the middle of the Black Forest www.hirschgrund-zipline.de.
